LONDON, October 25 .- The Prince of Wales was in his best form during his shooting this week. While staying with the Earl and Countess of Shafteswith the Earl and Countess of Shaftes-bury he brought down more birds than any one else, though the party included two other crack shots.

The explanation is that for three months the prince has been a total abstainer from intoxicating beverages. His most stimulating beverage now is ginger ale.

For two years his friends had no-ticed with profound regret that he was getting to look more and more like his uncle, the late Duke of Edin-burgh, afterward Duke of Saxe-Co-burg-Gotha.

like his uncle, the late Duke of Exce-burgh, afterward Duke of Saxe-Co-burg-Gotha.

His visage and figure have changed for the better. 'This undoubtedly is due to the earnest advice of his physicians, probably at the instance of the King, that he became a tectotaler.

The Princess of Wales, whose once bright and happy expression had long given way to a dull one, as if she was preoccupied with care, is beginning to look more cheerful again.

A kiss, a hug and baby slips off his mother's lap into a bowl of clean, warm water. There he finds a Sponge and a Cake of Ivory Soap. Mother squeezes the sponge and water runs all over baby's arms, his body, his legs and his little pink toes.
